The King of Audience Participation!

Craig Tornquist has performed more than 3,000 clean stand-up comedy shows in schools, churches, and for corporate audiences all across America! One of the highlights of his career happened in Florida when SADD National presented Craig with their Distinguished Service Award, which read, "In recognition of your creativity, wit, and commitment to the SADD mission of promoting safe and healthy decision-making among youth."

In A Funny Thing Happened on My Way to High School, Craig uses hilarious student volunteers to demonstrate how school is the perfect place for teens to discover their own unique talents, then turn those talents into careers they will love.

By sharing his childhood dream of becoming a professional comedian, Craig opens the door for students to begin visualizing themselves two decades from now. The program climaxes with an improv game called Talk Show, during which the teens take center stage... as their future selves!

In the end, Craig will encourage all students to develop and pursue their own dreams. At the same time, he will challenge them to realize that the choices they make now regarding drugs, alcohol, bullying, social media, texting while driving, and seatbelt use, will directly impact their opportunities for success after graduation.
